KENDAL AT LEXINGTON

Scope of our Program

Kendal at Lexington's Compliance and Ethics Program Code of Conduct covers the compliance issues, laws and regulations, and guidelines that are relevant to a provider of senior services including Senior Living Communities that provide a wide range of healthcare services. This includes but is not limited to Medicare and Medicaid regulatory issues; guidelines from the Office of Inspector General, Internal Revenue Service, Department of Health and Human Services Office of Civil Rights, and Occupational Safety and Health Administration; as well as other federal and state regulatory and business issues. The program fosters a culture of compliance that promotes legal and ethical behavior in the workplace by creating processes that detect and prevent fraud, waste, abuse, and policy violations. The Code of Conduct is supported by our compliance policies and procedures and should be read and understood jointly with those policies and procedures.

We use the term Associate to define the various individuals who are associated with Kendal at Lexington. All individuals, including employees, board members, contractors, volunteers, and vendors are members of our team in providing care and services to our residents. We use the term Resident to refer to individuals who receive the various types of healthcare and other services that we provide.

Any questions regarding the policies in this Code of Conduct, compliance policies, or related references, should be directed to your immediate supervisor, the Compliance Official, a member of the Compliance Committee, or the Compliance Officer.

Kendal at Lexington is a Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) licensed under the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia to provide the following services:

- Skilled Nursing
- Assisted Living
- Residential Living

Compliance Officer

The Friends Services for the Aging (FSA) Vice President of Compliance, Karla Dreisbach, CHC, CHPC, serves as our Compliance Officer. She has the responsibility to assist the Compliance Official, the Executive Director, and the Board of Directors in designing and overseeing efforts in establishing, maintaining, and monitoring compliance within our organization.

The Compliance Officer works with Kendal at Lexington's Executive Director and Compliance Official and has direct reporting responsibility to the Board of Directors. The Compliance Officer is responsible for continued coordination with the Compliance Official for the development, implementation, training, monitoring, and enforcement activities related to the overall compliance program. The Compliance Officer is assisted by Peace Church Compliance Program (PCCP) Compliance Managers and Compliance Specialists in providing services to Kendal at Lexington.

Compliance Program Management

Kendal at Lexington's Board of Directors, through the Executive Director carries the overall responsibility for creating a culture that values and emphasizes compliance and integrity.

The Chief Financial Officer has been appointed by the Executive Director and Board of Directors as the Compliance Official and is responsible for coordinating the day-to-day compliance activities in conjunction with the Compliance Officer. These activities include audits, responses to hotline calls, and leading the organization's Compliance Committee. As a function of this role, the Compliance Official also functions as the HIPAA Privacy Officer. The HIPAA Security Officer is the IT Network Administrator.

The Kendal at Lexington Compliance Committee is comprised of members of the management team and other key staff positions. The Compliance Official is the chairperson for this committee. The committee meets at least quarterly, and more frequently as needed.

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear Kendal at Lexington Associates:

The healthcare industry is constantly changing and being impacted by numerous laws and regulations. In our desire to establish a workplace that complies with these laws and regulations, we have developed a Compliance and Ethics Program that supports Kendal at Lexington Associates in making appropriate decisions. This document, called the Code of Conduct, represents the primary focus for our Compliance and Ethics Program. The Code of Conduct not only reflects Kendal values and practices, but also serves as a statement that influences how we enhance a resident's quality of life.

The Compliance and Ethics Program and the Code of Conduct guide our normal decisions to ensure their compliance with our values and practices as well as applicable laws, statutes, and regulations. Our Code of Conduct does not replace each person's obligation in making wise, fair, and honest decisions. It is intended to explain our personal and organizational responsibility and to reflect those areas in which improper or unwise decisions can harm our organization and impair our commitment to providing quality services to our residents.

We value your contribution to the residents and appreciate your support in maintaining an ethical workplace. Each Associate is responsible for helping to protect our work environment and its compliance with laws and regulations. Thank you for your commitment and contribution to Kendal at Lexington's values, practices and, most importantly, to our residents.

Sincerely,

Code of Conduct

Introduction

The Code of Conduct is the foundation of the Compliance and Ethics Program. The Code of Conduct is a guide to appropriate workplace behavior; it will help you make the right decisions if you are not sure how to respond to a situation. All Associates must comply with both the spirit and the letter of all federal, state, and local laws and regulations that apply to the healthcare and other services that Kendal at Lexington provides, as well as all laws that apply to our business dealings. Violations of these laws and regulations can result in severe penalties, including financial penalties, exclusion from participation in government programs, and, in some cases, imprisonment, for Kendal at Lexington, Associates, and individuals with whom we work.

As Associates, we share a commitment to legal, ethical, and professional conduct in everything that we do. We support these commitments in our work each day, whether we care for residents, order supplies, prepare meals, keep records, pay invoices, or make decisions about the future of our organization.

The success of Kendal at Lexington as a provider of healthcare and other services depends on you, your personal and professional integrity, your responsibility to act in good faith, and your obligation to do the right things for the right reasons.

The Compliance and Ethics Program provides principles and standards to guide you in meeting your legal, ethical, and professional responsibilities. As an Associate, you are responsible for supporting the Compliance and Ethics Program in every aspect of your workplace behavior. Your continued working relationship with Kendal at Lexington includes understanding and adhering to the Compliance and Ethics Program.

The Code of Conduct discusses the importance of:

Care Excellence – providing quality, compassionate, respectful, and clinically-appropriate care.

Professional Excellence – maintaining ethical standards of healthcare and business practices.

Regulatory Excellence – complying with federal and state laws, regulations, and guidelines that govern healthcare, housing services, and other services we provide.

A Shared Responsibility

Because we are in the business of caring for and providing services for others, it is critical that each of us adheres to appropriate standards of behavior. As individuals and as an organization, we are responsible to many different groups. We must act ethically and responsibly in our relations with:

- Residents and their families;
- Colleagues and co-workers;
- Members of the Board of Directors;
- Volunteers and affiliated colleagues;
- Healthcare payers, including the federal and state governments;
- Regulators, surveyors, and monitoring agencies;
- Physicians, Nurse Practitioners, Physician Assistants;
- Vendors and contractors;
- Business associates; and
- The communities we serve.

Any compromise in our standards could harm our residents, our co-workers, and our organization. Like every organization that provides healthcare, we do business under very strict regulations and close governmental oversight. Fraud, waste, and abuse are serious issues. Sometimes even an innocent mistake can have significant consequences that could result in substantial penalties to Kendal at Lexington.

All Associates are required to complete training, as appropriate, on the Code of Conduct and the Compliance and Ethics Program as a condition of employment or business relationship. The Code of Conduct sets forth mandatory standards.

There is no justification for departing from the Code of Conduct no matter what the situation may be.

Every Associate is responsible for ensuring that he or she complies with the Code of Conduct and all policies and procedures. Any Associate who violates any of these standards and/or policies and procedures is subject to discipline up to and including termination.

Personal Obligation

As we are each responsible for following the Code of Conduct in our daily work, we are also responsible for enforcing it. This means that you have a duty to report any problems you observe or perceive, regardless of your role.

As an Associate, you must help ensure that you are doing everything practical to comply with applicable laws. If you observe or suspect a situation that you believe may be unethical, illegal, unprofessional, or wrong, or you have a clinical, ethical, or financial concern, you must report it. You are expected to satisfy this duty by complying with the Three Step Reporting Process. If you fail to report noncompliance with the Code of Conduct, policies and procedures, or applicable federal or state laws, you will be subject to discipline up to and including termination. We have a zero tolerance for retaliation. No one may retaliate against an associate who reports a concern in good faith.

Reporting Compliance Concerns

The Three Step Reporting Process

First, talk to your supervisor. He or she is most familiar with the laws, regulations, and policies that relate to your work.

Second, if you do not want to talk to your supervisor, seek out another member of the leadership team or someone from human resources.

Third, if you still have a concern, contact the Compliance Official, a member of the organization's Compliance Committee, or the Compliance Officer.

You may also call the toll-free Compliance Hotline number at any time.

Compliance Hotline

Compliance Hotline at 800.211.2713

All calls are confidential, and you may call ANONYMOUSLY if you choose.

The Compliance Hotline is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, for callers to report compliance-related issues. Concerns that are reported to the Compliance Hotline are taken seriously.

You can make calls to the Compliance Hotline without fear of reprisal, retaliation, or punishment for your actions. Anyone, including a supervisor who retaliates against an Associate for contacting the Compliance Hotline or reporting a compliance issue in any other manner, will be disciplined.

Care Excellence

Kendal at Lexington's most important job is providing quality care to our residents. This means offering compassionate support to our residents and working toward the best possible outcomes while following all applicable rules and regulations including the Medicare Conditions of Participation.

Resident Rights

Residents receiving healthcare and other services have clearly defined rights. A document describing these rights is provided to each resident upon admission and is posted in conspicuous locations throughout the organization for the residents' and your reference. To honor these rights, we must:

- Make no distinction in the admission, transfer, or discharge of a resident, or in the care we provide on the basis of race, gender, age, religion, national origin, disability, color, marital status, veteran status, medical condition, sexual orientation, or other protected class status, insurance, or financial status;
- Treat all residents in a manner that preserves their dignity, autonomy, self-esteem, and civil rights;
- Protect every resident from physical, emotional, verbal, or sexual abuse or neglect;
- Protect all aspects of resident privacy and confidentiality;
- Respect residents' personal property and money and protect it from loss, theft, improper use, and damage;
- Respect the right of residents and/or their legal representatives to be informed of and participate in decisions about their care and treatment;
- Respect the right of residents and/or their legal representatives to access their medical records as required by the Health Information Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA);
- Recognize that residents have the right to consent to or refuse care and the right to be informed of the medical consequences of such refusal;

- Protect residents' rights to be free from physical and chemical restraints; and
- Respect the residents' right to self-determination and autonomy.

Abuse and Neglect

Kendal at Lexington will not tolerate any type of resident abuse or neglect – physical, emotional, verbal, financial, or sexual. Residents must be protected from abuse and neglect by Associates, family members, legal guardians, friends, or any other person. This standard applies to all residents at all times.

Federal law defines abuse as the willful infliction of injury, unreasonable confinement, intimidation, or punishment with resulting physical harm, pain, or mental anguish. This presumes that instances of abuse of all residents, even those in a coma, cause physical harm, or pain or mental anguish. Neglect means failure to provide goods and services necessary to avoid physical harm, mental anguish, or mental illness. The failure to follow a resident's care plan may constitute abuse.

The Commonwealth of Virginia defines abuse as the willful infliction of injury, unreasonable confinement, intimidation or punishment with resulting physical harm, pain or mental anguish, or deprivation by an individual, including caretaker, of goods or services that are necessary to attain or maintain physical, mental and psychosocial well-being. This includes verbal, sexual, physical or mental abuse. The term includes the following:

- Verbal Abuse – Any use of oral, written, or gestured language that willfully includes disparaging and derogatory terms to residents and families, or within their hearing range, regardless of their age, ability to comprehend, or disability. Examples of verbal abuse include, but are not limited to: threats of harm, saying things to frighten a resident.
- Sexual Abuse – Any non-consensual sexual contact of any kind with an elderly person.
- Physical Abuse – The use of physical force that may result in bodily injury, physical pain or impairment. It includes hitting, slapping, pinching, kicking, beating, pushing, shoving, shaking, and burning. Controlling behavior through corporal punishment or through actual physical or chemical restraints is also considered abuse.
- Mental or Psychological Abuse - Includes but is not limited to, humiliation, harassment, threats of punishment or deprivation, frightening, threatening, embarrassing or making fun of, or involuntary seclusion from others such as confinement.

- Involuntary seclusion – Includes separation of a resident from other residents or from their room; confinement to their room against their will; or the will of their representative. Emergency or short-term separation from other residents will not be considered involuntary seclusion and may be permitted if used for limited periods of time as a therapeutic intervention. Staff should document in the residents chart any reason for involuntary seclusion, including a timeline related to the seclusion.
- Neglect - The refusal or failure to fulfill any part of a person's obligations or duties to a resident. If an individual doesn't receive the help they need to keep them physically or mentally healthy, they are at risk of harm or decreased function or health. Some examples include: not turning, keeping dry, responding to call bells, not reporting changes to the charge nurse or physician, and not administering treatment or medications.
- Misappropriation of property (financial exploitation) is defined as the deliberate misplacement, exploitation, wrongful, temporary or permanent use of a resident's belongings or money without the resident's consent or the consent of the resident's responsible party.
- Self-Neglect is characterized as the behavior of elderly people that threatens their own health or safety. This form of neglect excludes a situation in which a mentally competent older person, who understands the consequences of a decision, makes a conscious decision to engage in an act that threatens their health or safety as a matter of personal choice.
- Resident-to-Resident Abuse is recognized as the abusive behavior of a resident directed towards another resident. This can include, but is not limited to, verbal, sexual, physical and mental abuse.

Any Associate who abuses or neglects a resident is subject to termination. In addition, legal or criminal action may be taken. Abuse and neglect must be reported immediately to your supervisor or other member of management.

Elder Justice Act

The Elder Justice Act requires timely reports of any reasonable suspicion of a crime against a resident of a long-term care facility. You must report your reasonable suspicion to the Virginia Department of Health (800.955.1819 or 804.367.2106) and the Rockbridge County Sheriff's Department (540.463.7328) within two (2) hours if the suspected crime involves serious bodily injury or within 24 hours if the suspected crime does not involve serious bodily injury.

In addition, Kendal at Lexington will follow reporting requirements as outlined in its Abuse and Neglect Policy.

Do not call the Compliance Hotline for allegations of abuse or neglect. Report abuse or neglect immediately to your supervisor.

Resident Confidentiality/HIPAA

All Associates must use and disclose medical, financial, or personal information only in a manner consistent with the HIPAA Privacy policies and procedures and state and federal law. You are responsible for keeping resident protected health information (PHI) confidential. PHI is defined as individually identifiable health information that is transmitted or maintained in any form or medium, including electronic health information.

Any unauthorized exposure of PHI which compromises the security or privacy of information is a potential breach.

If you become aware of a breach of any protected or sensitive information, it is important that you report it immediately to your supervisor or the Privacy Officer.

If the disclosure results in a breach, Kendal at Lexington must investigate and comply with all state and federal HIPAA regulations for breach notification.

Resident Property

Associates must respect residents' personal property and protect it from loss, theft, damage, or misuse. Associates who have direct access to resident funds must maintain accurate records and accounts.

Providing Quality Care

As a CCRC, our primary commitment is to provide the care, services, and resources necessary to help each resident reach or maintain his or her highest possible level of physical, mental, and psychosocial well-being. Kendal at Lexington has policies and procedures and provides training and education to help each Associate strive to achieve this goal.

Our care standards include:

- Accurately assessing the individual needs of each resident and developing interdisciplinary care plans that meet those assessed needs;
- Reviewing goals and plans of care to ensure that the residents' ongoing needs are being met;
- Providing only medically necessary, physician prescribed services and products that meet the residents' clinical needs;
- Confirming that services and products (including medications) are within accepted standards of practice for the resident's clinical condition;
- Ensuring that services and products are reasonable in terms of frequency, amount, and duration;
- Measuring clinical outcomes and resident satisfaction to confirm that quality of care goals are met;
- Providing accurate and timely clinical and financial documentation and record keeping;
- Ensuring that residents' care is given only by properly licensed and credentialed providers with appropriate background, experience, and expertise;
- Reviewing resident care policies and procedures and clinical protocols to ensure that they meet current standards of practice; and
- Monitoring and improving clinical outcomes through a Quality Assurance Performance Improvement (QAPI) Committee with established benchmarks.

Medical Services

Kendal at Lexington is committed to providing comprehensive, medically necessary services for our residents. The Medical Director provides oversight to physicians and other medical providers and services as defined by state and federal regulations. The Medical Director oversees the care and treatment policies and is actively involved in the Quality Assurance Performance Improvement (QAPI) Committee.

Professional Excellence

The professional, responsible, and ethical behavior of every Associate reflects on the reputation of our organization and the services we provide. Whether you work directly with residents or in other areas that support resident services, you are expected to maintain our standards of honesty, integrity, and professional excellence, every day.

Hiring and Employment Practices

Kendal at Lexington is committed to fair employment practices. When hiring and evaluating, we:

- Comply with federal, state, and local Equal Employment Opportunity laws, hiring the best qualified individuals regardless of race, color, national origin or ancestry, religion, sex, pregnancy or childbirth (or related medical conditions), disability, marital status, age, status as a veteran, use of a pension or benefit plan, prior assertion of a workers' compensation claim or engagement in concerted activity regarding the terms of employment. All promotions, transfer evaluations, compensation, and disciplinary actions also follow this policy.
- Conduct employment screenings to protect the integrity of our workforce and welfare of our residents and Associates.
- Require all who need licenses or certifications to maintain their credentials in compliance with state and federal laws. Documentation of licenses or certifications must be provided.

Employee Screening

Employees are screened in accordance with federal and state law to ensure the safety of Kendal at Lexington residents. Screening procedures have been implemented and are conducted prior to hire and monthly thereafter.

As long as you are employed or affiliated with Kendal at Lexington, you must immediately report to your supervisor:

- If you are arrested or indicted for a criminal offense;
- If you are convicted of an offense that would preclude employment in a healthcare facility;
- If action has been taken against your license or certification; or
- If you are excluded from participation in a federal or state healthcare program.

Licensure, Certification and Exclusion Screening

Kendal at Lexington is committed to ensuring that only qualified professionals provide care and services to residents. Practitioners and other professionals treating residents must abide by all applicable licensing, credentialing and certification requirements. In addition, every effort is made to validate licenses and certification through the appropriate state or federal agency.

Kendal at Lexington is prohibited by federal law from employing, retaining, or contracting with anyone who is excluded from any federal or state funded programs. Screening of all Associates through the Office of Inspector General's List of Excluded Individuals and Entities, and the GSA's System of Award Management database is conducted prior to hire and at a minimum of monthly thereafter.

Employee Relations

To maintain an ethical, comfortable work environment, associates must:

- Refrain from any form of sexual harassment or violence in the workplace;
- Treat all colleagues and co-workers with equal respect, regardless of their race, color, religion, age, national origin or ancestry, veteran's status or disability;
- Protect the privacy of other Associates by keeping personal information confidential and allowing only authorized individuals access to the information;
- Not supervise or be supervised by an individual with whom they have a close personal relationship; and
- Behave professionally and use respectful communication at all times.

Workplace Safety

Maintaining a safe workplace is critical to the well-being of our residents, visitors, and co-workers. That is why policies and procedures have been developed describing Kendal at Lexington's safety requirements. Every Associate should become familiar with safety regulations and emergency plans regarding fire and disaster in his or her work area.

In addition to organizational policies, we must abide by all environmental laws and regulations. You are expected to follow organizational safety guidelines and to take personal responsibility for helping to maintain a secure work environment. If you notice a safety hazard, you must take action to correct it if you can or to report it to your supervisor immediately.

Drug and Alcohol Abuse

Kendal at Lexington is committed to maintaining a team dedicated and capable of providing quality resident services. To that end, you are prohibited from consuming any substance that impairs your ability to provide quality services or otherwise perform your duties.

You may never use, sell, or bring on Kendal property alcohol, illegal drugs, and/or narcotics or report to work under the influence of alcohol, illegal drugs, and/or narcotics. For an Associate who appears to have work performance problems related to drug or alcohol use, a drug and alcohol screening will be conducted and appropriate action will be taken, if necessary.

Illegal, improper, or unauthorized use of any controlled substance that is intended for a resident is prohibited. If you become aware of any improper diversion of drugs or medical supplies, you must immediately report the incident to your department supervisor, the Compliance Official, the Compliance Officer, or use the Compliance Hotline. Failure to report a known instance of noncompliance with this policy may result in disciplinary action against the Associate, up to and including termination.

Organizational Relations

Professional excellence in organizational relations includes:

- Complying with federal tax law to maintain tax exempt status under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code;
- Maintaining company privacy and keeping proprietary information confidential;
- Avoiding outside activities or interests that conflict with responsibilities to Kendal at Lexington and reporting such activity or interest prior to and during employment;
- Allowing only designated management staff to report to the public or media; and
- Requiring that Kendal at Lexington complies with the licensing and certification laws that apply to its business.

Proprietary Information

In the performance of your duties you, may have access to, receive, or may be entrusted with confidential and/or proprietary information that is owned by Kendal at Lexington and that is not presently available to the public. This type of information should never be shared with anyone outside the organization without authorization from a member of the leadership team.

Examples of proprietary information that should not be shared include:

- Resident and Associate data and information;
- Details about clinical programs, procedures, and protocols;
- Policies, procedures, and forms;
- Training materials;
- Current or future charges or fees or other competitive terms and conditions;
- Current or possible negotiations or bids with payers or other clients;
- Compensation and benefits information for staff;
- Any kind of financial information; and
- Market information, marketing plans, or strategic plans.

Gifts

You may not accept any tip, gratuity or individual gift from residents and/or residents' family members. You may not give gifts to residents and/or residents' family members.

Employees may accept gifts from "the Staff Appreciation Fund" established from resident contributions so long as the gifts provided to employees are of equal value and the contributions by residents to the "Staff Appreciation Fund" are voluntary and anonymous such that there is no way for an employee who benefits from the fund to determine whether a resident contributed to the fund.

You may not borrow money from nor lend money to residents and/or residents' family members; nor may you engage with residents and/or residents' family members in the purchase or sale of any item. No Associate may accept any gift from a resident and/or a resident's family members under a will or trust instrument except in those cases where they are related by blood or marriage.

Associates may not serve as a resident's executor, trustee, administrator, or guardian or provide financial services or act under a power of attorney for a resident except in those cases where they are related by blood or marriage.

Business Courtesies

Kendal at Lexington prohibits any Associate from offering, giving, soliciting, or accepting business or professional courtesies including entertainment and gifts that could be interpreted as attempts to influence decision making. Under no circumstances will an Associate solicit or accept business courtesies, entertainment or gifts that depart from the Gifts and Gratuities policy.

Conflict of Interest

A conflict of interest exists any time your loyalty to Kendal at Lexington is, or even appears to be, compromised by a personal interest. There are many types of conflict of interest and these guidelines cannot anticipate them all, however the following provide some examples:

- Financial involvement with vendors or others that would cause you to put their financial interests ahead of Kendal's;
- Associate participation in public affairs, corporate or community directorships, or public office;
- An immediate family member who works for a vendor or contractor doing business with Kendal at Lexington and who is in a position to influence your decisions affecting the work of Kendal at Lexington;
- Participating in transactions that put your personal interests ahead of Kendal at Lexington or cause loss or embarrassment to Kendal at Lexington;
- Taking a job outside of Kendal at Lexington that overlaps with your normal working hours or interferes with your job performance; or
- Working for Kendal at Lexington and another vendor that provides goods or services at the same time.
- Promoting a personal business during work hours.

All Associates must seek guidance and approval from our Executive Director or the Director of Human Resources before pursuing any business or personal activity that may constitute a conflict of interest.

Use of Property

We must protect the assets of Kendal at Lexington and ensure their authorized and efficient use. Theft, carelessness, and waste have a direct impact on Kendal at Lexington's viability. All assets must be used solely for legitimate business purposes.

Everyone must make sure that they:

- Only use property for Kendal at Lexington's business, not personal use;

- Exercise good judgment and care when using supplies, equipment, vehicles, and other property; and
- Respect copyright and intellectual property laws; or
- If unable to assess the copyright or intellectual property laws, never copy material and/ or download software.
- If borrowing Kendal property, abide by the appropriate policy.

Computers /Internet

Associates are expected to use Kendal computers, email, and internet/intranet systems appropriately and according to Kendal at Lexington's established policy and procedure. You are not permitted to use the internet for improper or unlawful activity or download any games or music without prior approval.

Internet use can be tracked and how you use your time on the internet may be monitored. You should have no expectation of privacy when you use Kendal at Lexington's computers, email, and internet/intranet system. Kendal at Lexington has the right to sanction or discipline employees who violate the Code of Conduct in a digital, cyber, or other non-face-to-face environment. You should be familiar with Kendal at Lexington's Social Media policy and abide by it.

Vendor Relationships

Kendal at Lexington takes responsibility for being a good client and dealing with vendors honestly and ethically. We are committed to fair competition among prospective vendors and contractors for our business. Arrangements between Kendal at Lexington and its vendors must always be approved by management. Certain business arrangements must be detailed in writing, and approved by management. Agreements with contractors and vendors who receive resident information, with the exception of care providers, will require a Business Associate Agreement (BAA) with the organization as defined by HIPAA. Contractors and vendors who provide resident care, reimbursement, or other services to resident beneficiaries of federal and/or state healthcare programs are subject to the Code of Conduct and must:

- Maintain defined standards for the products and services they provide to us and Kendal at Lexington residents;
- Comply with all policies and procedures as well as the laws and regulations that apply to their business or profession;
- Maintain all applicable licenses and certifications and provide evidence of sanction screening, current workers compensation, and liability insurance as applicable; and

- Require that their employees comply with the Code of Conduct and the Compliance and Ethics Program and related training as appropriate.

Marketing and Advertising

Kendal at Lexington uses marketing and advertising activities to educate the public, increase awareness of our services, and recruit new Associates. These materials and announcements, whether verbal, printed, or electronic, will present only truthful, informative, non-deceptive information.

Regulatory Excellence

Because Kendal at Lexington is a provider of healthcare services, we must follow the many federal, state, and local laws that govern our business. Keeping up with the most current rules and regulations is a big job – and an important one. We are all responsible for learning and staying current with the federal, state, and local laws, rules, and regulations, as well as the policies and procedures that apply to our job responsibilities.

Billing and Business Practices

Kendal at Lexington is committed to operating with honesty and integrity. Therefore, all Associates must ensure that all statements, submissions, and other communications with residents, prospective residents, the government, suppliers, and other third parties are truthful, accurate, and complete.

We are committed to ethical, honest billing practices and expect you to be vigilant in maintaining these standards at all times. We will not tolerate any false or inaccurate coding or billing. Any Associate who knowingly submits a false claim or provides information that may contribute to submitting a false claim, such as falsified clinical documentation, to any payer – public or private – is subject to termination. In addition, legal or criminal action may be taken.

Prohibited practices include, but are not limited to:

- Billing for services or items that were not provided or costs that were not incurred;
- Duplicate billing - billing items or services more than once;
- Billing for items or services that were not medically necessary;
- Assigning an inaccurate code or resident status to increase reimbursement;

- Providing false or misleading information about a resident's condition or eligibility;
- Failing to identify and refund credit balances;
- Submitting bills without supporting documentation;
- Soliciting, offering, receiving, or paying a kickback, bribe, rebate, or any other remuneration in exchange for referrals; and/or
- Untimely entries into medical records.

If you observe or suspect that false claims are being submitted or have knowledge of a prohibited practice, you must immediately report the situation to a supervisor, the Compliance Official, the Compliance Officer, or call the Compliance Hotline. Failure to report a known prohibited practice will subject you to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Referrals and Kickbacks

Associates and related entities often have close associations with local healthcare providers and other referral sources. To demonstrate ethical business practices, we must make sure that all relationships with these professionals are open, honest, and legal.

Resident referrals are accepted based solely on the clinical needs and our ability to provide the services. Kendal at Lexington never solicits, accepts offers, or gives anything of value in exchange for resident referrals or in exchange for purchasing or ordering any good or service for which payment is made by a federal health care program. Anything of value includes any item or service of value including cash, goods, supplies, gifts, "freebies," improper discounts or bribes.

Accepting kickbacks is against our policies and procedures and also against the law. A kickback is anything of value that is received in exchange for a business decision such as a resident referral. To assure adherence to ethical standards in our business relationships, you must:

- Verify all business arrangements with physicians or other healthcare providers or vendors in a written document; and
- Comply with all state and federal regulations when arranging referrals to physician-owned businesses or other healthcare providers.

You cannot request, accept, offer, or give any item or service that is intended to influence – or even appears to influence – the referral, solicitation, or provision of healthcare service paid for by any private or commercial healthcare payer or federal or state healthcare program, including Medicare and Medicaid, or other providers.

Inducements to Prospective Residents

You may not provide anything of value including goods, services, or money to prospective residents or any beneficiary of a federal or state healthcare program that you know or should know will likely influence that person's selection of a provider of healthcare services.

For the purposes of this policy, anything of value includes but is not limited to any waiver of payment, gift, or free service that exceeds a value of $10 per item or $50 annually in total. If you have a question about whether a particular gift or service would be considered "of value," ask your supervisor or the Compliance Official.

Copyright Laws

Most print and electronic materials are protected by copyright laws. Associates are expected to respect these laws and not reproduce electronic print or printed material without obtaining permission as required by the writer or publisher. When in doubt, ask your supervisor.

Financial Practices and Controls

Ensuring that financial and operating information is current and accurate is an important means of protecting assets. Each one of us must make sure that all information provided to bookkeepers, accountants, reimbursement staff, internal and external auditors, and compliance staff is accurate and complete. This includes ensuring the accuracy of clinical documentation which supports our reimbursement. We must also comply with federal and state regulations when maintaining clinical records, accounting records and financial statements, and cooperate fully with internal and external audits.

Fair Dealing

All Associates must deal fairly with residents, suppliers, competitors, and one another. No Associate shall take unfair advantage of anyone through manipulation, concealment, abuse of privileged information, misrepresentation of material facts, or any other unfair dealing practice.

Document Creation, Use and Maintenance

Every Associate is responsible for the integrity and accuracy of documents, records, and e-mails including, but not limited to, resident medical records, billing records, and financial records. No information in any record or document may ever be falsified or altered.

You must not disclose, internally or externally, either directly or indirectly, confidential information except on a need to know basis and in the performance of your duties. Disclosure of confidential information externally must follow organization policies.

Upon termination of employment, you must promptly return all confidential information, medical and/or business, to the organization. Examples of confidential business information include potential or threatened litigation, litigation strategy, purchases or sales of substantial assets, business plans, marketing strategies, organizational plans, financial management, training materials, fee schedules, department performance metrics, and administrative policies.

Voluntary Disclosure

It is our policy to voluntarily report known overpayments and any improper/irregular conduct, including fraudulent conduct, which affects any federal or state healthcare program. Reporting will be completed within the time frames identified under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

Government Investigations

Kendal at Lexington is committed to cooperating with requests from any governmental inquiry, audit, or investigation. You are encouraged to cooperate with such requests, conscious of the fact that you have the following rights:

- You have the right to speak or decline to speak;
- You have the right to speak to an attorney before deciding to be interviewed; and
- You can insist that an attorney be present if you agree to be interviewed.

In complying with our policy, you must not:

- Lie or make false or misleading statements to any government investigator or inspector;
- Destroy or alter any records or documents;
- Attempt to persuade another Associate or any person to give false or misleading information to a government investigator or inspector; or
- Be uncooperative with a government investigation.

If you receive a subpoena or other written or oral request for information from the government or a court, contact your supervisor, the Compliance Official, or the Compliance Officer before responding.

Disciplinary Action

Disciplinary action will be taken against anyone who fails to act in accordance with this Code of Conduct, the Compliance and Ethics Program, supporting policies and procedures, and applicable federal and state laws. Disciplinary action may be warranted in relation to violators of the Compliance and Ethics Program and to those who fail to detect violations or who fail to respond appropriately to a violation, whatever their role in the organization. When taking disciplinary action against an Associate, we will utilize standard disciplinary processes which may lead to the termination of business relationships and agreements. The Compliance Officer may initiate and recommend corrective or disciplinary action against an Associate through the Compliance Official and Executive Director and may also monitor appropriate implementation of the disciplinary process. We will discipline anyone who engages in prohibited retaliatory conduct.

Compliance Questions

The laws applicable to Kendal at Lexington's operations are numerous and complicated. When you are not sure whether a particular activity or practice violates the law or the Compliance and Ethics Program, you should not guess the correct answer. Instead, you should immediately seek guidance from your department supervisor or the Compliance Official. You will not be penalized for asking compliance-related questions. In fact, we are intent on creating a culture in which you should feel comfortable asking questions to ensure you understand the duties that are imposed upon you under this Code of Conduct, the Compliance and Ethics Program, and other applicable federal and state laws.

Conclusion

The Compliance and Ethics Program is critical to Kendal at Lexington's continued success. You are crucial in ensuring the integrity of Kendal at Lexington. The Code of Conduct and the Compliance and Ethics Program set standards for the legal, professional, and ethical conduct of our business. Some key points to remember are:

- Kendal at Lexington and all of its Associates are committed to personal and organizational integrity, to acting in good faith, and to being accountable for our actions.
- The Code of Conduct and the Compliance and Ethics Program prepare us to deal with the growing complexity of ethical, professional, and legal requirements of delivering healthcare in the CCRC environment.
- The Compliance and Ethics Program is an ongoing initiative designed to foster a supportive work environment, provide standards for clinical and business conduct, and offer education and training opportunities for Associates.

The success of the Kendal at Lexington's Compliance and Ethics Program depends on our commitment to act with integrity, both personally and as an organization. As an Associate, your duty is to ensure that Kendal at Lexington is doing everything practicable to comply with applicable laws. You are expected to satisfy this duty by performing your responsibilities in accordance with professional standards, the regulations guiding our business practices, and our policies and procedures.
